COMPRO Announces Sale of Legacy Computer Replacement System (LCRS) to Q4 Services, LLC for ATR-42 Commercial Flight Trainer Host Replacement

Melbourne, FL (November 1, 2010): COMPRO, a global supplier of highly deterministic, real-time computers and simulation systems, announces the sale of its Legacy Computer Replacement System (LCRS) to Q4 Services, LLC, to replace a Gould CSD MultiSEL host computer.

The 80's-generation MultiSEL was originally used to host a certified American Airlines ATR-42 commercial flight simulator. The simulator was later sold to a third party in Orlando, Florida, and Q4, who is upgrading the device, selected COMPRO to provide the critical host replacement.

COMPRO's LCRS is a drop-in SEL/Gould/Encore host replacement solution that runs unmodified legacy code using COTS hardware and software, delivering outstanding compatibility, expansion potential and dramatically improved performance at a fraction of the cost and risk of traditional re-hosting.
